

CHALANI Australian Stock Horses

QUALITY IS OUR STRENGTH & YOUR PROTECTION

Volunteer Rider/Helpers required

At Chalani Australian Stock Horses, located Monarto South.

An opportunity exists for a reliable and trustworthy person to learn about training, showing and competing quality young horses. Person needs to be a confident rider willing to help out at the stud and competitions. Own transport (and parental support if a Junior) is a must.

This is a chance to learn the finer points about preparing and showing an Australian Stock Horse with the possibility of competing for the right dedicated person. An ideal opportunity if you cannot afford to purchase a show horse or keep a horse yourself, but wish to ride, help at competitions and compete.

Plenty of instruction is available in order to learn about handling and riding of young horses (and breaking if desired). Those doing Pony Club 'K' certificate or looking to build up some references for future work are welcome.

Presently we have a number of young horses, some already under saddle and some turned out. You would be required to assist with handling/riding horses as they come into work (and/or assist by riding an older horse out with them):

- 3 x 3yos - all broken in, at varying stages of education
- 2 x 2yos - one backed, the other has had pre-breaking training
- 2 x 2yos – presently turned out, ready to be taught lunging
- 2 x Yearlings - ready to be taught lunging
- 1 x Foal

We require a person to help with training / riding / show preparation, some feeding and minimal yard cleaning or other small jobs from time to time.

Casual number of hours and preferred times are negotiable/flexible. This is not a paid position but potentially could have benefits such as entry fees and participant ASH membership being paid for and travel to local and interstate shows.

You will be required to have personal accident insurance (ie EFA membership, school accident insurance or similar).

Please email a one page (max) document summarising your experience and interests with horses and your personal attributes/qualities. Please include your contact details.
